OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

"THE PRUNE YARD" is the name that has been given the joint development of Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. at Campbell and Bascom avenues.

In our opinion, the Sahadi project is the most important development that has ever taken place in this community and will have the greatest impact on it, for it will change the entire complexion of this town.

"The Prune Yard" is a 34-acre, 416,000 square foot office and specialty complex that will follow the basic Spanish architectural design with adobe brick, old timbers and ceramic tile roof material, etc.

Adjacent to "The Prune Yard" will be "The Towers", an 18-story prestige office building in which glass plays an important part in the design.

Two free-standing buildings that will be located on either side of the "The Towers" will follow the basic Spanish design.

There will be a distinct blend of the old and the new.

If we seem to get a little carried away in our enthusiasm over this dramatic reshaping of the skyline of the Campbell of the future, don't worry about it.

We are.

Next question —

"THE PRUNE YARD" and "THE TOWERS", in our opinion, will have an effect on this community of such magnitude that even those of us who like to think we have some "vision" will be surprised.

This week the dramatic project really got off the ground.

The signing of the lease of a 1400-set twin theater in the center with United Artists Theatre Circuit was announced.

In addition, building plans for the 18-story office building were submitted to Wally Byron, city building official.

And, if we know Fred Sahadi as well as we think we do, from now until completion, things will hum.

And we do mean hum.

It has been reported that the developers are aiming for a Jan. 1, 1970 occupancy date!

It will be an amazing feat, if that happens.

But we have learned not to sell this guy Sahadi short.

If Fred believes that the multi-million dollar project will be ready by next January, and is aiming for that goal, we will make book that he won't miss his deadline by much, if at all.

Even if he has to handle a shovel, saw or hammer himself.

Shucks, we doubt very much if we would be overly shocked if we saw him handling all those three tools at the same time, if the project started to lag.

THIS WEEK IS AN IMportant phase in the transition of the old Brynteson Ranch into a unique shopping center-tower complex.

The first step was taken a year ago when Sahadi purchased the 34-acre parcel, long rated as one of the choicest properties in the area, from the Brynteson estate.

There had been a number of attempts made previously to acquire the property but none had been successful.

It seemed impossible to get the heirs together.

The heirs lived in Sweden.

Sahadi went to Sweden. He spent five weeks there. By the end of the time he had acquired the $1 million property.

The land was cleared and the next step was the proposal that the civic center be located in the tower. That suggestion was subsequently

Theaters sign lease for Campbell-Bascom center

Local history was made this week when it was officially announced that the first lease had been signed for space in the $10 million development on the 34-acre former Brynteson Ranch at Campbell and Bascom avenues.

Twin theaters with 1400-seating capacity will be located in "The Prune Yard," the official name for the 416,000 square foot shopping-office complex that will be constructed on the site.

Robert A. Naify, executive vice-president of United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc., announced this week that his company had signed a lease for the theaters in "The Prune Yard" a joint multi-million dollar development of Fred Sahadi and the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co.

The theaters will be located in the west end of the Spanish-styled center which will utilize old timbers, adobe brick and ceramic tile roof materials in its construction.

Immediately adjacent to "The Prune Yard" will be the 18-story office building, officially tabbed "The Towers". The developers are now in the process of arranging for leases for office space in that high-rise building, which will be the highest in the county, as well as in the center itself.

The twin theaters, which will have auditoriums of 800 seats and 600 seats, will utilize a common lobby and will be the largest such theater in northern California.

The theater, according to Naify, will offer its patrons the ultimate in luxury and comfort as well as presenting the finest motion pictures available for the viewing public.

The design of the theater will conform to the heavy ornate Spanish architecture of the shopping center. The interior of the theater will feature a large, graciously designed lobby and comfortable, widely spaced seating.

United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc., has its principal offices in San Francisco and is rated as the second largest theater circuit in the United States, operating nearly 400 movie houses, as well as a number of community and tenant TV stations and a theater equipment and supply distribution company.

MILESTONES

Three more "official" milestones this week marked another dramatic chapter in the history of the unique shopping center-18-story tower complex planned at Campbell and Bascom avenues by Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel.

On Monday night the City Council 1) unanimously gave first reading to an ordinance that changes the zoning on the property to C-2-0 (overlay) to allow for the 18-story office; (2) granted "special development permit No. 1" which approves the high rise building i the high-rise building in the new zone and (3) on Monday also Bruce Moody, of the architectural firm of Walker and Moody, filed the building plans for the 18-story tower with Wally Byron, city building official.

Low bidder gets traffic signal project in city

Three traffic signals in Campbell will be updated at a cost of $54,420 as a result of the City Council awarding the contract on Monday to Howard Electric of San Jose.

Howard's bid was the lowest of six submitted, ranging to a high of $76,700. The engineer's estimate for the job was $65,665.

Three signals, Hamilton at Central; Campbell at Central and Latimer at Winchester will be modernized in the project.

The City Council at the meeting deferred action on the proposed city ordinance, recommended by the Planning Commission regulating outdoor business activities (aimed at controlling service stations, it has been claimed by its opponents).

Council members felt that a few points in the ordinance needed clarification, especially pertaining to possible drive-in operations, such as banks, on single lots. The proposed ordinance would limit outdoor businesses to intersections of two-four-lane streets and in shopping centers.

Speaking in opposition to the ordinance were Fred Chez and Ira Kirkorian, two local developers.

A large delegation of residents of White Oaks Road was present at the meeting to urge the City Council to take steps to close White Oaks Road because of the heavy traffic on it. Owners of business properties on the street, however, maintain that the street should remain open.

After a conference with interested parties, City Mana-

Park commission bucks apartment

Two advisory commissions to the City Council this week wound up on opposite sides on a civic issue thus placing the City Council (and a park) squarely between them.

In an unprecedented action in the annals of this city, members of the Park and Recreation Commission, collectively and individually, have appealed the action of the Planning Commission approving a 288-unit apartment complex at Budd and San Tomas Expressway.

The appeal is to the City Council and will probably be on the Jan. 27 agenda. Thus the city fathers find themselves in the unenviable position of being in the middle between their two loyal advisory bodies in a "family" battle.

At the Jan. 6 Planning Commission meeting, site and architectural approval was given the plans for a plush 4½-story apartment complex which is adjacent to the city-owned Rincon Park.

One of the conditions of Planning Commission approval was that recommendations for the 1.25 acre "buffer zone" between the park and the apartments should be made by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Parks and Recreation Commission members at their meeting last Thursday not only discussed the 1.25 acres but also took on the whole ball of wax, claiming that the high-rise apartments would effectively destroy the open space character of the entire area" and would have an adverse effect on the city's investment in the adjoining property and it would also curtail any recreational activity in the present park.

The letter of appeal asking the City Council to reverse the Planning Commission was filed by Don Hebard, Chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission. The six

The annual affair will be held at the Villa Felice at 7:30 p.m. with Superior Judge Richard (Dusty) Rhodes as installing officer. This will mark the fourth year that Judge Rhodes has acted in that capacity, starting when he was still a municipal judge of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga court.

C of C officers who will be installed include Neal Royer, school superintendent, president; Don Kennedy, Bank of America, 1st vice-president; Bob Bullard, CPA, 2nd vice-president; and Bob Blonder, First Valley Bank, treasurer plus the new and hold-over directors.

Ken Mantle, New York Life, is the outgoing president.

Past mayors of Campbell will receive plaques from the C of C at the dinner.

The past mayors invited to the event include, Dick Morton; John M. Chargin; Myron L. Fairchild; Pete Lico; Henry Weitzel; Charles Rose; Ralph Doetsch, Sr.; and Edward J. Rogers. Bill Smeed, the current mayor, also will be present.

Traditionally the naming of the citizen-of-the-year is this community's best kept secret and this year is no exception. The name of the person will be revealed for the first time at the dinner.

The annual ambassador-of-the-year award given to the CofC member who has obtained the most members in the year will go for the third time to Al LaPlante, a newly-elected director.

The tab for the event is $6.50 per person. The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. Reservations must be in the CofC office by Monday, Jan. 20, 1969.

Colonial Savings to build on Winchester Blvd. near city limits

Colonial Savings and Loan Association, whose head office is located in the West Portal District of San Francisco and which also has a branch in San Francisco's Marina district, was recently granted a Santa Clara County branch by the Savings and Loan Commissioner.

The new office will be located on Winchester and Colonial Way (near Hamilton Avenue) and will serve both Campbell and San Jose.

Colonial will build its Campbell office in true Colonial design. In the meantime Colonial is now open for business in temporary quarters. James Shaefer, manager of the Campbell branch, has invited the public to visit Colonial's modern trailer, to have a cup of coffee and cookies and receive one of Colonial's attractive, useful gifts.

Colonial was recently purchased by Daniel K. Ludwig, who also purchased Systematic Savings and Loan Association of Fremont.

An application is now pending to merge these two offices into Colonial. Ludwig is also negotiating for the purchase of another local Savings and Loan Association which has two offices. An application will be made to merge it into Colonial also.

If and when these merges are approved, Colonial will have seven offices with total assets of over 107 million dollars.

Colonial was founded in 1952. Its founder, Desmond G. Kelly, continues as president and managing officer.

Colonial has served Santa Clara County for many years through its loan department. According to the firm officials, over 50% of its loan portfolio is located in Santa Clara County. Thus, they point out, that the approval of the Campbell branch was logical to better serve these borrowers and also be convenient to Santa Clara County investors.

Colonial purchased the land where its new office is to be located, several years ago. They also purchased several acres in the rear.

The acreage in the rear was sold to the firm of Pollack and Gambord, well known for their Owner-unit fourplexes.

Pollack and Gambord are presently building a complex of four 36 unit apartments on this acreage. The buildings are colonial in style and will complement the background for Colonial Savings' new branch on Colonial Way and

SAVINGS AND LOAN FIRM TO BUILD NEAR CITY LIMITS IN CAMPBELL

Editorial

Our own Congress

On Saturday, March 15, the third annual Congress for Community Progress will be held at West Valley College.

A committee, headed by the Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, has been working out details of the congress over a period of several months. The sole objective is to present a format that will prove of value to the entire community. The Rev. Gould was also chairman of the congress last year.

We have long been convinced that the Congress for Community Progress offers the citizenry a golden opportunity to sound off about their community.

But more important it also provides a means to develop recommendations from the people themselves for the betterment of their own community.

We have suggested that the theme of the congress should be "BOOST, BOAST or BLAST"... Basically that describes the purpose.

But the Congress is of no value unless the citizens participate, for only in that way can their desires be ascertained as to what they want their community to be.
"BOOST, BOAST or BLAST".

Those attending the Congress can BOOST their community by citing the advantages the area offers.

We believe this community stands on the brink of its biggest advancement in its history.

You can also BOAST about your community, for solely through the efforts of its citizens a city bond issue was passed that will provide for a new civic center, improved streets and new fire stations.

And then, of course, you can also BLAST your community because there are so many areas which have not been touched.

Thus a Congress of Community Progress is the place where one can and should "Boost, Boast and Blast."

The first two congresses were highly successful. There is every reason to believe that the third Congress in March will be even more so because of what was learned in 1967 and 1968.

But again we must emphasize that plans and panels mean little, if the citizens do not take active roles.

The Congress provides a grass roots sounding board for the entire community that is not possible by any other means.

Many of the recommendations that were made in the last two congresses have been carried out successfully. Without the congress most of the ideas would not have been even developed.

Granted that some of the ideas that come out of a Congress will be impractical. But even the most impractical suggestion often will lead to something worthwhile.

It is conceded that the first Congress in 1967 was largely responsible for generating the needed enthusiasm of the citizens which made possible the passage of the bond issue in the fall of that year.

The first Congress, incidentally, was important also because it was actually the first real forum held in this community in which various civic problems, objectives and ambitions could be aired by the citizens themselves.

Unfortunately only a relatively few citizens took advantage of the opportunity.

But those who attended the first meeting were almost unanimous in their viewpoint that the Congress should be an annual event.

By scheduling the congress annually, a review of the previous recommendations could be made and new recommendations could be presented on a much more sound basis.

Thus at the second congress held in February, 1968 it was possible to review and project much more intelligently.

The second congress discussed a master plan for Rincon Park; the downtown core concept; the housing problem; the disposal service; transportation; annexations; schools; industry; youth problems and many other issues.

Incidentally, it was at the second Congress that it was recommended that the city embark on a clean-up, beautification program.

Such a campaign was conducted this year by the Citizens for Beautification headed by Mrs. Jeanette Watson.

As a result of the committee efforts, the city has entered the national contest in that field with high hopes of being among the winners.

What we are trying to say is that the Congress for Community Progress can be of vital importance to the community as a whole.

The "soundings" made at the sessions by the citizens themselves are of invaluable assistance to the city administration and all civic leaders who are striving to make a better Campbell.

But unless there is an active participation of the citizens themselves, it will fail to accomplish its mission.

The third Congress on Saturday, March 15, will then be either a success or failure depending on the response from the community.

withdrawn and replaced by the present plan which is exclusively a development by private enterprise.

There have been a number of preliminary moves as the project goes forward but this week is all-important.

With the announcement of the first lease and the submission of building plans to the city, even the most skeptical must now admit that Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel are playing "for keeps".

THERE ARE SOME WHO have been critical of the christening of Campbell's most ambitious development, as "The Prune Yard".

They think the project deserves a more glamorous tab than just being named for the lowly prune.

Some recall when "prune-picker" was used as a more or less derisive term to describe the people from this area.

We can remember "thousands" of years ago when a student at Fresno State that we used to enjoy shouting something about "prune pickers" when teams from San Jose State and Fresno State would meet.

Apparently, "prune-picker", as it was used then, was not a form of endearment. The San Jose State partisans, we recall, did not take it that-away either.

But we must be getting old.. We seem to enjoy digressing.

Times have changed. "The Prune Yard" ties in the old with the new.

How many prunes have you picked lately?

-0-

ANOTHER REASON WE like the name "Prune Yard" is that it brings back World War II memories of when we were meandering around North Africa and Italy.

Our outfit once got a semi-permanent assignment in the rear-echelon area.

We took over an abandoned slaughterhouse.

In a short space of time we did wonders to the buildings converting them into an attractive bivouac area that was the pride of the corps.

Paint, ingenuity, and partitions converted the main building of the slaughterhouse into a top-flight recreational center.

Of course, it had to be named.

All types of names were submitted.

Guess the one that was selected and won almost immediate approval of the whole company?

In big letters, the G.I. sign-painter splashed across the front of the building..."THE SLAUGHTER HOUSE".

It is sort of analogous.

Excuse us, please, our nostalgia is showing.

NAMES SOMETIMES can tell a story but they can also be mighty confusing when individuals have nicknames or monickers that are entirely different than their given names.

That came to mind recently when we read where the Rev. BENJAMIN Gould of the Campbell Methodist Church was to give the invocation at the county park dedication.

The Rev. W. H. Gould is pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell.

The "W" stands for "William". But the Rev. Gould has been known as "Ben" since boyhood days and it does not stand for "Benjamin" in this instance.

Or take Bill Means as another f'instance.

He is no more a William than Ben is a Benjamin. There is no William or Bill in his name. Officially, that is.

But Bill has been known as Bill also since boyhood days in Porterville, Calif., where his dad was city clerk.

Bill's initials are "L. E." His dad's name was William (Bill).

For informational purposes only, the first name is "Lawrence".

You will have to ask Bill what his middle name is.

OR TAKE DOBIE Jeffers as another good f'instance.

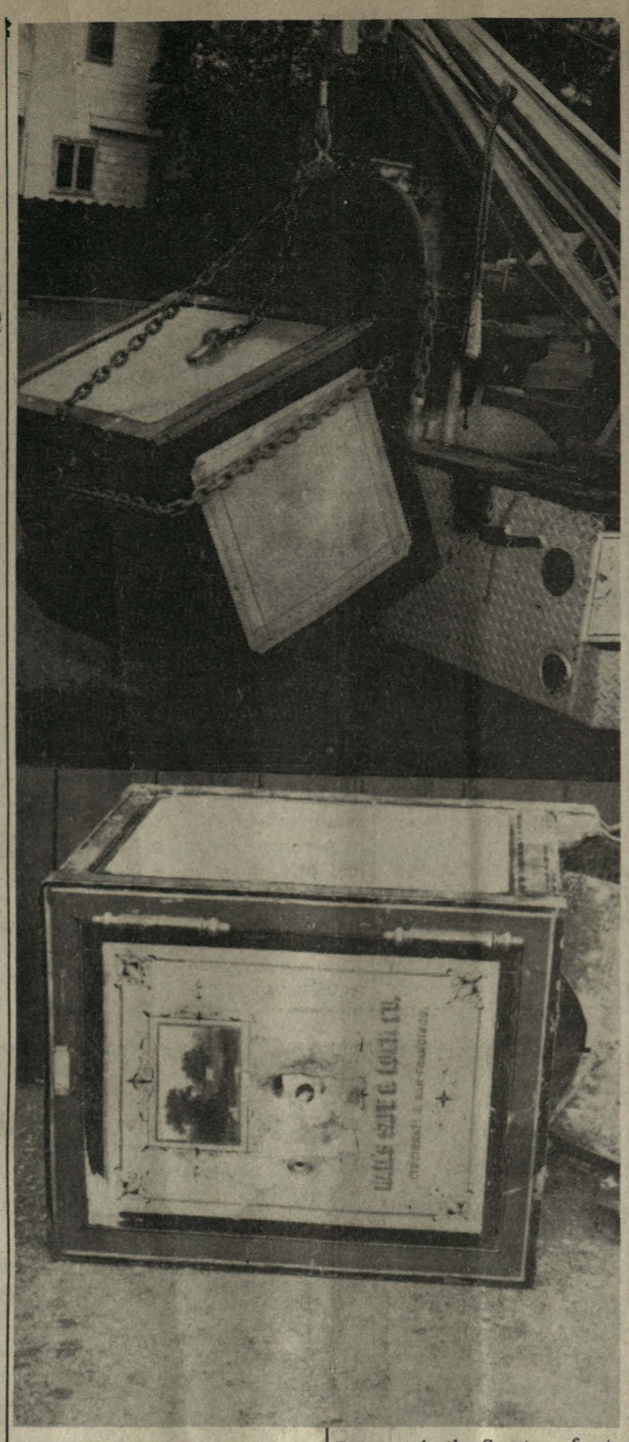
Some of you who have dealt with Dobie in more than a casual way may know that "Dobie" is strictly a nickname. But there are many who don't.

His given handle is the extremely uncommon name of "George".

Dobie told us that recently he was in a doctor's office where four men were in the waiting room.

When the doctor came to the door and said "George, you can come in now", all four guys started for the office.

But...how many "Dobies" do you know?



SAFES RECOVERED---Two safes stolen from Campbell merchants in burglaries recently have been recovered. The Winchester Hardware safe, stolen from the business at 2127 Winchester Blvd. Jan. 3, was recovered in Sunnyvale approximately one-half mile from the Sunnyvale Theatre. The Campbell Floral Shop, 76 E. Campbell Ave., was burglarized Jan. 3. Their safe was found four miles above Saratoga in the Saratoga foothills. In the above pictures the Campbell Floral Shop safe is shown dangling from the back of the end of the crane, and in the second photo laying in the back of the Campbell City Hall police quarters. The contents other than the more than $6,000 in cash and money orders were recovered.

other members of the commission, Frank Kukuk, Hank Cary, Edith Morley, Court Watson, Bill Podgorsek and Margaret Fraker, endorsed the action.

Hebard, who was chairman of the successful bond campaign in Oct. 1967, pointed out that the citizens subcommittee on parks then (headed by Cary) had recommended that five acres of the property in question be purchased by the city as a central park addition.

The park bonds on the ballot in Oct. 1967, although receiving a majority, failed by a few votes to get the necessary two-thirds approval, so no city funds are available for site acquisition at present. If the bonds had passed, the current problem would not exist, park commissioners emphasized.

Hebard said his group is also concerned over the lack of open space in the city that can be used for parks and recreational purposes.

Some of the commissioners feel so strongly on the matter that they have advocated that a special park bond issue be drafted to obtain funds for the purchase of the additional park land.

RAIN DROPS

The recent storm dumped 1.15 inches of rain on Campbell, according to the Campbell Water Company records. This brings the total rainfall to 6.57 inches. A total of 4.02 inches were recorded as of this date last year, with 6.35 inches as normal.

Unless a three-month old German shepherd pup, answering to the name of "Nova", is found immediately, five-year old Paul Sargis must continue to undergo a painful series of rabies shots.

Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sargis, 3762 Delgado Court, was bitten Dec. 31 by the pup, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Chavoya, Xavier Court. The pup has disappeared and has not been seen since the accident.

Rather than risk the possibility of rabies, the Sargis' decided to go ahead with the rabies shots for Paul. These shots can be stopped up to a point, but that point is rapidly approaching.

If anyone sees Nova, please call Mrs. Sargis at 379-3206. The dog is predominently black, and was last seen on Delgado Court.

The Campbell Bucs were victorious against the Prospect Panthers last Friday in basketball as well as in wrestling. The Varsity Basketball team won the Panthers 69-60. The top scorer for Campbell was Jim Russell, scoring 24 points followed by Jim Royer making 15 points. Other scorers include Jeff Taku, Larry Wilcox, Steve Dunlap and Jim Gaddis.

We now have a 2-3 record. The game was a close and exciting one. The spirit was also great.

The frosh/soph team also brought back a victory.

Our next game is with Los Gatos Friday night at Campbell. The frosh/soph game begins at 7 p.m. and the Varsity game begins at approximately 8:30. Next Tuesday, Jan. 21, we play Branham at Branham. The frosh/soph game begins at [illegible] p.m. and the Varsity game starts at approximately 6:30.

The Tuesday games scheduled for the afternoons have been changed to night games by the school district due to the lack of bus transportation. During the frosh/soph tournament held on Dec. 28 Campbell placed first and received a trophy.

The wrestling match, held last Friday against Prospect proved to be victorious for Campbell. We won both of the matches.

The ski trip to Dodge Ridge last Saturday was a big success. The members left at 4:30 in the morning and returned at about 9 p.m. that night. Everyone had a good time.

Class office petitions are available in room 35 for anyone interested in running for an office. The only requirements are (1) you must be a student body card holder and (2) you must have at least a "C" grade average.

An assembly was held yesterday to hear the candidates speeches for Student Council. An all-school election will be held this Friday to elect one president and three councilmen. Everyone should try to find some time during the day to vote.

Students wishing to purchase a yearbook who don't have a student body card may do so in room 35. A one dollar deposit is required at the time of ordering and the balance of $4.50 is due when the yearbooks come in June. The system used to make a purchase is on a first come, first serve basis.

Founder of Western Gravel passes away

William Lynn Beatty, 65, founder of the former Western Gravel Company on Railway Ave., passed away suddenly Jan. 7 at his ranch at Fallon, Nevada. He formerly resided in Los Gatos.

Beatty was born in Toquerville, Utah, and came to California in 1936. In 1941 he founded the Western Gravel Co. in partnership with James F. Boccardo. He served as general manager and vice president until he retired two years ago. For a good many years the Western Gravel Co. was the largest business in Campbell and the sales tax and license fees were the basis of the City of Campbell economy.

Beatty was a charter member of the Los Gatos Elks Lodge 1857 and a past president of the Northern California Ready-Mix Association. He also served as a director on the San Francisco Bay Area Water Quality Control Board and was an appointee to the Santa Clara County Flood Control.

W. L. BEATTY

He is survived by his wife. Mrs. Hazel Beatty of Fallon, Nevada. Other survivors include three sons, Harold L. Beatty of Watsonville, Douglas L. Beatty of Saratoga and Robert E. Beatty of San Jose, and four daughters, Mrs. Mary E. Snyder, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Lois J. Blount of Los Gatos; Miss Carol A. Beatty of San Jose and Miss Sharon K. Beatty of San Jose. He was also the brother of five brothers and one sister, and the grandfather of 15 grandchildren.

Services were held Saturday from Darling-Fischer & Fabers Chapel of the Hills, Los Gatos. Contributions may be made to the Santa Clara County Heart Fund.

1969 car tabs at Wells Fargo bank

The Wells Fargo Bank at Second and Campbell Ave. has been designated by the Department of Motor Vehicles as one of the 150 banks where Campbell residents may renew their 1969 vehicle registrations, according to Verne Orr, Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Counters or windows in the banks will be set aside and sign-posted for payment of vehicle registration fees.

The DMV clerks at banks are able to handle only routine exchanges of fees for stickers and card stubs. Anyone whose vehicle registration requires a special computation or adjustment to call at a regular DMV office or visit the office of an auto club of which he is a member.

DMV registration stations in banks will be open during regular banking hours, starting Thursday, January 2 and continuing through close of business on Tuesday, February 4.

A routine payment of the fees printed on the punched registration card, and return to the customer of the stamped card stub, with a license plate sticker, takes 30 seconds or less.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Though the Ninety-first Congress is marking time until next week's inauguration and has accomplished little more than necessary housekeeping chores, we already have some indication of what to expect from the Legislative Branch in the next two years.

Clearly this Congress is in a "wait and see" mood of review and assessment. After a decade which produced more legislation than any other, the inclination is to slow down.

Senator Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader of the Senate, recently said of the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations: "I think perhaps we may have passed too much legislation, spent too much money. I think it is time to reorganize, tighten our belts...".

Senator Edmund S. Muskie said on the same day: "With the change in the Presidency we ought to take a good look at all of the steps we have tried to take...".

Republican leaders are also predicting a "middle of the road" Congress and one cabinet member-designate was heard to say: "I hope we can concentrate on making some of the programs already passed work instead of trying to pass new ones."

On May 25, 1961, President John F. Kennedy stood before Congress and said: "I think we should go to the moon." At that time the first orbital flight made by John Glenn was nine months away and the goal seemed remote and inaccessible. Now just seven and one-half years later, our astronauts have orbited the moon and all Americans share the pride of achieving a clearly established national goal.

Though the advisability of going to the moon is still subject to question by some of our citizens, the clear-cut manner in which the goal was openly established by the public and its government is heartily approved by everyone. Conversely our citizenry has felt that no clear-cut goals and plans have been established in advance for the deluge of new social programs which has marked the current decade. The people have felt that their rightful share in policy making has been scattered amongst dozens of militant pressure groups.

The "wait and see" mood of this Congress is very much in tune with the national mood and reflects majority opinion. Rightly or wrongly many equate the massive legislative efforts at solving social programs over the past ten years with the degradation of those efforts into the crisis and unrest which now overwhelms the nation.

People are tired of violence, rioting, and bitter agitation for new laws and new programs which are passed before older ones are given a chance to work. They want a Congress which will try to consolidate and improve what has already been started. They want an honest effort to curb inflation, to roll back the alarming increase in the rate of crime, and to re-establish peace as a way of life. Most Americans want once again to feel the reassuring stability of basic institutions which do not react to the whims of emotional and militant minorities, but act deliberately and positively whenever action is required.

CSF and Honor Society will be enjoying a holiday of frolicking in the snow, Feb. 7-9 at Bear Mountain.

They will board their bus Friday at 4:30, and arrive at their lodge later that night. Two days on the slope will be enjoyed by 40 students in such pursuits as skiing, tobaggoning and general snow fun. The bus will return at 10 p.m. on Sunday leaving the fun-loving, but hard working CSF'ers to recuperate.

Cost of the trip will be $5.00 which includes three meals, bus trip up and back, and lodging for the two nights.

Home Economic students have been finishing up their home projects, which were due shortly after Christmas vacation.

All girls are required to take a course in home economics before graduation; part of the course requirements include completing a home project and making a written evaluation on it. Some of the projects tackled by the girls were; wallpapering a room, refinishing a chair or furniture, knitting a dress, sewing, embroidery, knitting golf club covers, painting a room, making a rug, and the list could go on and on.

Seniors are making the news with their senior ball to be held on March 21. They are soon to be deciding on having either a "rock" band or a "slow" band.

Senior Bob Archibald has been busy lately taking close-up photographs of the moon. Astronomy has been Bob's hobby through high school and he decided that he "might as well try photography".

Without the help of a telescope in taking the pictures, it would be like taking a picture of a quarter ten miles away. He couldn't have gotten an image.

Bob plans to continue astro-photography as a hobby, but plans to major in sociology or humanities–he is also interested in the Peace Corps.

Prospect Pulse

By Pat Hebard

The "Wizard of Oz" was picked as Prospect High's first musical. Tryouts were held last week and will continue through this week. Over a hundred students turned out for the play. This popular fairy tale will be directed by Miss Long and the music production will be directed by Mr. Larry McCommas.

The first big game between Campbell and Prospect was held last Friday on the Panther basketball courts. Both schools showed great enthusiasm as the two teams battled to the last second. The Bucs skimmed by in the fourth quarter to victory. Dave Knudson was high scorer for the Prospect team. They also played Los Gatos last Tuesday but again were defeated by the Wildcats.

Girls' Sports has been active this past week. Both hockey teams remained undefeated as they trounced the Blackford girls last Thursday. The two girls' basketball teams also defeated the Blackford teams. Girls' Sports met with the Saratoga teams last Tuesday, and will meet with Leigh this Thursday.

A new sport has been added to the activities at Prospect. Soccer coached by Earl Adams has become very popular among the students. The soccer team defeated Branham last week with a score of 4 to 0, but met defeat when confronted with the Saratogans.

The sophomore class sponsored a rally Friday afternoon to promote extra spirit for the game. The sophomore students got together and presented a skit to the student body. Yellow, the sophomore color, predominated the rally decorations.

Mid-quarter grades were given to students last week. Progress reports were also sent to the parents of those students who need improvement in certain areas.

National Merit tests scheduled

Campbell High School students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements and to enter college in 1970 can register now to participate in the 1969-70 National Merit Scholarship Program, Robert M. Culp, principal, announced today.

The first step for all students who wish to enter the nationwide competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMSQT) at the school at 9:00 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 15.

Participating students pay a $1.50 fee.

When his NMSQT scores are reported, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him evaluate his scores and compare his performance with that of other high school students across the country.

Garden Club trophy honors Mrs. Trigueiro

Campbell Garden Club honored the memory of one of its charter members, both in eulogy and by the establishment of a perpetual traveling trophy to be awarded each year at its flower show, during its Jan. 8 meeting.

Mrs. Mary Santos Trigueiro, who passed away Jan. 5, widow of John Trigueiro, had won the Best of Show trophy for Horticulture at the 1967 Standard Flower Show. At that time she was 86 years old, and was very active in her garden at 186 N. Central Ave.

Although childless, Mrs. Trigueiro had been named "Mother of the Year" several years ago by The Garden Club for her untiring maternal efforts in helping and inspiring the organization.

Taking part in the eulogy were the Mesdames Fred Smith, Henry Blohm, Stanis Rohde, Richard Hage, Ward Brannon, Edgar Johnson, Alfred Johnson and Miss Violette Costabel.

Mrs. Rohde, also a charter member, who provided transportation for Mrs. Trigueiro, told of how active Mrs. Trigueiro had been in the club since it was formed in 1947.

Mrs. Smith spoke of how Mrs. Trigueiro had provided flowers and arranged them as part of her Altar Guild activities at St. Lucy's Church, and Mrs. Blohm detailed her work on behalf of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Trigueiro had come from the Azores in '90's to be the bride of the man her father had chosen. Soon after, the young couple settled in Campbell and for many years lived on Hamilton Ave.

Senior Action art classes

Mrs. Frances Kirsh, who is now conducting art classes at the West Valley Senior Action Center starting with her youth in Greenwich Village. She studied at Hunters College and recently served with the San Francisco Museum of Arts.

She has developed a technique of making ceramic portraits and is expecting a large turnout for the classes which will be held on Tuesdays. On Friday she will present the first of a series of lectures. The lessons are free to the public.

Four-H Club

The Campbell 4-H Club held its Christmas party Dec. 13, 1968 at the Forest Hills School. Preceding the party, the older members went Christmas caroling at local convalescent homes. Games were played, Santa arrived with presents for all, songs were sung and refreshments served.

The regular December 4-H meeting was held at Coventry School, with president Kathleen Clancy presiding over the metting. Stacy Smith, Lynn Smith and Rhonda James, members of the Food Preservation group gave a demonstration on freezing walnuts.

A group of the members attended a basketball game at San Francisco on Dec. 27.

First Baptist Church dedicates new auditorium at Sunday services

The First Baptist Church of Campbell, 400 Llewellyn Ave., Rev. H. M. Liechty, Jr., pastor, held a grand opening and dedication service for the recently completed 600-seat auditorium on Sunday, Jan. 12.

Special guests at the service were Dr. Robert Hughes, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention of California; Rev. T. J. DuBose, San Jose associational missionary; and Dr. H. M. Liechty, Sr., assistant pastor of South Hills Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Calif.

The message for this service was delivered by the pastor, Rev. H. M. Liechty, Jr.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held July 4, 1968, and voted to build with voluntary labor. Carl Castleman was in charge of the construction and dozens of members have worked on the new building, many giving 300 to 400 hours of labor.

The church will cost $65,000 in cash, but at least $85,000 has been given in labor by the members.

Of Spanish Mission architectural design, the decor of the front interior is ash paneling. The open beams are finished natural above white walls. Red carpeting enhances the beauty of the building.

The main lighting is suspended and on dimmers, with indirect fluorescent lighting on the walls.

Seating capacity on the main floor will be 450, with seating for forty-five in the choir loft, and 100 seats in the balcony.

Illuminated front windows are 24 feet high with 15 different colors in 62 separate panes. These windows were donated by the parents of the pastor and by his sister, who is a missionary in India.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15
By Nan Warren

The holiday season is over. All the decorations have been put away for another year and the trees have been chopped up for kindling. Surely Christmas must still remain in the hearts and minds of the children at Ming Quong, due to the efforts of a Junior Girl Scout Troop in our neighborhood.

Troop 237, Marshall Lane Juniors did their best to make this Christmas a happy one at Ming Quong. The girls purchased a Christmas tree for the school and then proceeded to make the decorations.

Working in patrols, the Scouts baked fancy Christmas cookies. Each cookie was placed separately in a small plastic bag and tied with a fancy ribbon.

Seven of the Troop members: Donna Convertino, Sally Bostwick, Christine Thompson, Beth Boettcher, Pam Ryalls, Joan Wetherill and Annette Naughten with their leaders, Mrs. Charles Metcalf and Mrs. Donald Wyman, took the tree and box of cookies to the Ming Quong School where the children decorated their very own tree. What could possibly be nicer than decorations you can eat!

The spirits of those who reside at Foothill Convalescent Hospital were given a boost as sixteen Scouts, of different levels, came bearing gifts and songs of the holiday season.

Maria Candelaria, Rozanne Anderson, Sue Lund, Lisa Smith, Kathleen Odneal, Connie Marich and Joyce Appollo all of Cadette Troop 567; Lisa St. Germaine, Senior Scout of Troop 700; Josie Rosas, Troop 829, a Junior Scout from San Tomas School; Donna Bailey, Gale Fullmer, Jill Fredlund, Jennifer Ratzlaff, Barbara Roberson, Julie St. Germaine and Maureen Silverman, Capri Jr.'s, cheered the patients with traditional Christmas Carols.

Gifts of tangerines, candy and Christmas ornaments made by the Cadets of Troop 567, were given to each patient.

Warming the hearts of both young and old was a great joy to all the Scouts involved. Girl Scouts have learned there is always a "need" — not only at Christmas time but all year 'round. It's nice to be needed and Scouts everywhere are looking for those needs where they can help in their community.

Campbell Light Opera to hold first meeting

Can you sing? Paint? Carpentry? Sew? Dance? Want to put your time and talents to use? Want to act or sing, or be associated with a group putting on light operas and dramatic plays?

If you do, or are even interested about thinking about such possibilities, you are urged to attend the first "Let's get organized" meeting of a new group calling themselves the Campbell Light Opera Association.

The first meeting has been called for Thursday, Jan. 16 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Anita Nethercutt, 14960 Carl Ave. Mrs. Nethercutt, along with approximately 30 others, has been spearheading the formation of the organization and appeared last week before the meeting of the Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission seeking support and recognition.

Mrs. Nethercutt, who has appeared in the San Jose Light Opera vehicles and who was active in the San Tomas Home and School Club Follies productions, appealed to the commission and to the Campbell residents in locating a place in which the group could meet for rehearsals and present their productions.

An appeal was also being made for persons who would like to join the group and work in any capacity.

Mrs. Nethercutt stressed the fact that many Campbell residents have a lot of talent in the various fields connected with the production of a dramatic or operatic production, and have no outlet for their interests. The drama productions presently being planned by the organization will be geared to a professional adult level, with children and teengers being used only if the part is cast for that age.

Mrs. Nethercutt visualizes a summer workshop program for persons interested in producing and acquiring experience in productions that could be qualified as professional, and pointed out that Campbell residents who were interested in going to or working on such productions have had to go out of Campbell. She feels that Campbell has now reached the level that would support such an organization.

Other persons who are presently interested in forming the Campbell Light Opera group include Ed Space, a music teacher in one of the local high schools; Bob Crawford, also a music teacher; Alden Peterson, drama teacher who has volunteered to direct the group, Katherine Bartholomew, dance instructor who will do the choreography and Freda Samsom, an expert seamstress who will assist in the costuming.

Many other talents are needed and all interested husbands, wives and family groups are all invited to attend. Mrs. Nethercutt can be reached for further information at 356-3681.

Why put up with fear?

It's amazing how many fears, big and small, seem to plague one's day. It may be fear of losing one's job, of offending someone, of effects from certain foods, or more seriously, of illness.

Fear seems to be the result of circumstances. But, actually, it is often the cause of problems, even of ill health. Fear can be conquered, however.

You and your friends are cordially invited to hear Gordon F. Campbell, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship discuss how we can rid ourselves of fear and its effects.

The topic will be explored by a speaker from the firm of "Fun Fabrics" of Saratoga and Los Altos, who will show many ways of using machine knit fabrics.

Christmas colors chosen for December wedding

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS TURK

Nuptial vows were exchanged Dec. 28 by Kathleen Jo Swisher and Douglas Robert Turk.

The Congregational Church of Campbell was the scene of the candlelight service with the Christmas poinsettias decorating the altar set off by white stock and white roses.

The brunette bride chose a heavy satin gown appliqued with chantilly lace and styled with a high neckline trimmed with seed pearls for her wedding day. Three-quarter length sleeves trimmed with applique and a built-in chapel train completed her wedding dress which was set off with an elbow length silk illusion veil secured with a satin bow. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered around a corsage.

Linda Burt, a life-long friend of the bride, served as maid of honor in a floor length dark red velvet gown, trimmed with ecru lace at the neck and a satin panel train.

The bridesmaid, Gail Zeiler, was gowned in an identical dress and both attendants wore bow headpieces and carried white nosegays of roses with ribbons matching the gowns.

The wedding vows were read by the Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers.

Kathleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuyler Swisher of 385 Carlyn Avenue. She was graduated from the Campbell High School and attended West Valley College before her marriage. For the wedding Mrs. Swisher chose a blue coat and dress accented with a white rose corsage, while Mrs. Turk wore a pale green coat and dress for her son's wedding.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Turk of San Jose. He was graduated from Cupertino High School and is now attending DeAnza College.

Following the ceremony a champagne reception was held in Blum's Town and Country Village, after which the new Mr. and Mrs. Turk left for a honeymoon in Carmel.

High school parents form discussion forums

Parents of high school students are invited to join a unique and lively program of neighborhood forums especially designed for better understanding teen-age youth. This is the 13th year these groups have functioned.

They are sponsored by the Campbell Union High School District and the Metropolitan Adult Education Center, and feature a wide range of discussion topics for an evening's consideration once a month. Over a cup of coffee, in homes of participants, with one of the group serving as leader, parents share ideas and questions with each other and a special resource consultant, well versed in the topic.

These neighborhood forums are beginning this month throughout the Campbell Union High School District. The general topic is "Better Understanding Our Teen-age Youth." Groups were organized in November in each of the high schools by enthusiastic and energetic parents. At these meetings, a leader, recorder, and hostess for the first meetings were selected, and a topic chosen of interest to the majority of parents.

The next of The Campbell High School group meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Verzi, 1338 Maria Way and Mrs. R. D. Smith, 72 W. Campbell Ave. on January 16.

At the conclusion of the group meetings in the spring, a culmination meeting will be held with an outstanding speaker to address the participating parents. Also at this time, groups will present any suggestions and recommendations they wish to make to the high school district.

Anyone interested in learning more about these groups should contact Mrs. Helen Andres, Assistant Superintendent of the Campbell Union High School District at 379-4710.

As I View It

BY JOHN W. GILBAUGH

Did you ever stand on a rugged shore and watch a proud ship of state flounder in a sea of chaos? If you are a taxpayer, you have purchased tickets for ringside seats from which to view such a spectacle. The California State Colleges have been caught up in such a maelstrom. The ship's line of officers have been shackled by the State College Trustees, who, inadvertently, turned the fate of the ship over to a mutinous crew.

This action, taken shortly after July 1, 1961, in the form of a State College Trustees' policy which stated that the faculties must be consulted before administrators are appointed has had the effect of permitting the privates to hire and fire the generals. Such a delegation of power enabled tenured faculty members to seize control of the state colleges from duly constituted, but untenured, administrators who had prevailed before that date. Because they are virtually elected by the faculty, college administrators now serve in a subservient, solicitous, faculty-lackey type of capacity.

And they know they had better be willing to submit - for their jobs, if they wish to keep them, depend on it. That these observations are self-evidently true, one has only to read the daily newspapers, or listen to radio and television news broadcasts to be convinced of the anarchy and chaos which pervade the public, tax-supported college campuses.

To illustrate how the faculties moved into the leadership vacuum created by the Trustees' policy, pertinent excerpts from his book, A Plea For Sanity In The Public Colleges And Universities, authored by this writer in 1966, to warn the public of the impending crises in higher education, are quoted.

In the words of the Chairman of an Academic Council of one of California's largest colleges, an account is presented of the extent of faculty seizure of the college's administrative apparatus.

The college had finished the previous year under a president, who, in the institutions' 100 year history, was the first to have been screened by the faculty and employed by the trustees on the faculty's proposal.

In his discourse before the school's one-thousand-member staff, at a general faculty meeting, the Academic Council Head asserted, "As chairman of this year's Academic Council, I have the awesome task of reviewing for you the work of last year's council... The year, as you well realize, was the first one for our new president, and a busy one it was for him and the Council. If there was any general guiding spirit for that year's work, it seemed to be one of faculty involvement, to the maximum, in the governance of the college. This involvement took place at all levels - departmental, divisional, and all-college.

"Working within the framework of guidelines recommended by the Academic Council, departmental committees - elected within the departments - sent forward their recommendations concerning retention and promotion of their members. Divisional committees, elected from the constituent departments, screened recommendations for promotion. An all-college committee again elected by the faculty made final recommendations to the president. In a phrase - it was a faculty show all the way."

With regard to the emasculation of the office of department head, the Council Chairman, had this to say, "Again, upon recommendation of the Academic Council, the policy was set which called for regular review of department heads by the faculty of the departments. One-half of the department heads were reviewed this year and the rest will be reviewed during the coming year. With the move away from long-term appointments by the President to selection by departmental faculty, the name "department head" has been changed to "chairman...".

To show how this policy affected the attitudes of administrators, excerpts from two letters written by department heads who resigned, are cited. One wrote, "...I feel that being a Department Head is the most thankless, unrewarding position that a faculty member can hold...On this campus a Department Head is just a "paper pusher" who has no standing with the faculty and is not trusted to carry out his job."

Another department head, who resigned, noted in his annual report, "...With some of the department head's power going to the rank and file members of the department and the rest going to the Academic Council, he has now become essentially a clerk with no power other than that had by any other staff member...

"...With the resulting deemphasis on rules, a number of department members now cut classes in aberrant ways, and do not attend convocations...These changes are, in my opinion, not for the good of the students. Neither are they for the good of the faculty in that they antagonistically divide those on the staff into two groups: the workers and the shirkers."

Obviously, therefore, one must conclude that today's failures in public higher education are deeply rooted in yesterday's mistakes.

Doors, windows smashed by burglars

Katies Boutique, 28 E. Campbell Ave. was the latest Campbell Ave. business establishment to suffer damage and loss. On Saturday evening the front door window was broken, enabling the burglar to open the door and enter. Women's clothing valued at $168 was stolen from the small shop which caters to the young set. The stolen items were later found in the shrubbery in back of Al's TV Service, 98 E. Campbell Ave., leading police to suspect they might be dealing with a sex deviate.

Two Campbell residences were burglarized during last week and feminine undergarments were the only items removed. The residence of Leona Pinney, 1170 Steinway was entered Jan. 8 and underclothing valued at $246 was stolen.

On Jan. 9 John Murdock of 86 South Third, reported a similar theft of female underclothing belonging to Mrs. Murdock and daughter.

Camping equipment valued at $150, including a tent, was removed from the Kenneth Strickler residence, 1007 Ravenscout. The equipment had been stored in locked cupboards in the carport, and was removed after the locks were pried off.

Someone using a great deal of force broke open the locked door of Rose's TV, 376 N. Central Ave. during the night of Jan. 7. The door was secured with a chain, which was shattered in several places and the door itself was split at the top.

The burglar apparently broke the door and hastily selected a portable color TV and stand and made off with it. The neighbors reported they had heard no noise, although the blow breaking the door would have made a loud noise.

Community leaders to discuss juvenile problems on Jan. 18

Four hundred business and community leaders are being invited to a County-sponsored "Institute on the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency" this Saturday, Jan. 18, at the University of Santa Clara.

The keynote speaker will be Spencer Williams, former County Counsel, now administrator of the State Health and Welfare Agency.

A panel discussion on "The Prevention of Crime and Delinquency: Whose Responsibility and What Must Be Done?" will bring together a scientist, a juvenile judge, a college professor and a school official.

The panelists are John C. Coleman, of Stanford Research Institute, Judge Homer B. Thompson, of Juvenile Court, Professor Lou Carranza of San Jose State College, advisor to the Mexican-American Student Confederation and William Jefferds, superintendent of the Alum Rock School District.

SPENCER WILLIAMS

Other speakers will be the Rev. Walter J. Schmidt, S.J., vice-president of the University of Santa Clara, speaking on "The Wutzit Club, after 25 years," and Robert Kelgord, director of the San Francisco Bay Area Social Planning Council.

Invitations have been sent to mayors, city councilmen, police chiefs, businessmen, industrialists, high school and junior high school principals, community leaders and young persons.

MUD FLATS

There are now about 45,000 acres of mud flats bordering San Francisco Bay.

Beautification scrapbook goes to Washington

The Washington, D.C. headquarters of the 1968 National Clean-up Contest has announced the arrival of the scrapbook entry from Campbell, the results of some long hours of labor by the beautification committee.

The book, weighing 35 pounds, cost $26 to mail to Washington. Mrs. Jeanette Watson, under whose guidance the book was written, compiled and completed, estimated that the finished scrapbook had some 180 plus pages. Its cover was designed by Fire Captain Lee Neal, on his own time, and depicted Campbell as the "cleanest little town in the world".

Entries in the national contest will compete in categories according to their population, with Campbell falling into the under 25,000 category. Trophies, distinguished achievement awards, and certificates of honorable mention will be presented Feb. 25 in Washington in a ceremony climaxing the National Congress on Beautification.

WVC to hold open house Sunday, Jan. 19 on Saratoga campus site

The campus of West Valley College at Saratoga, will be on display with an "Open House" scheduled for Sunday, January 19, from 1 to 4 p.m., on the 143-acre site at Allendale and Fruitvale avenues in Saratoga.

Visitors will be invited to tour the buildings already open on the campus, as well as to look over the beautiful site, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president.

Refreshments will be provited by the Food Service and Restaurant Management Program, one of the units already operating on the new campus.

The Engineering-Technology Building was opened for Fall classes and the Science-Mathematics Building is scheduled for completion for the next academic year beginning in September. A swimming pool is nearing completion.

Board members, administrators and students will act as hosts for the tour. The general public is invited to view the new campus and its growing facilities.

The board recently approved claims totaling $214,173.08 for facilities on the Saratoga campus. A progress payment of $145,085.28 was made to the Barnhart Construction Co. for work on the science-math building due to open in the fall and $18,876.15 went to Max Schenck for the swimming pool.

The Prune Yard

CENTRAL WEST VALLEY LOCATION—BASCOM & CAMPBELL AT HIWAY 17

THE PRUNEYARD is a 34 acre, 416,000 square foot office and specialty shopping complex architecturally designed in heavy Spanish, reminiscent of our early California heritage. In bold contrast rises THE TOWERS, an 18 story, starkly modern, all glass office building, tastefully designed to blend with the unusually rich and ornate ground floor environment. The development is located at the GEOGRAPHIC CENTER OF GREATER METROPOLITAN SAN JOSE, and offers the "very finest" in office and shopping accommodations. Occupancy available fall 1969.

Bank adds two savings plans

Bank of America has announced the availability of two new savings plans that pay 5 per cent interest to savers.

The plans are designed to meet the needs of the average saver, according to bank officials, as they provide for payment of the highest possible interest with the continued maximum safety of Bank of America.

Rudolph A. Peterson, bank president, adds that the individually-tailored savings plans are being instituted as a companion service to the bank's "personal choice" checking accounts.

The first plan is a special passbook account requiring a minimum balance of $500. Additional deposits in multiples of $100 may be made at any time. The 5 per cent interest is compounded and credited quarterly.

The second new Bank of America plan is designed to supplement existing time certificate of deposit programs which require deposits in multiples of $1,000. This plan also requires a minimum deposit of $1,000, but deposits in multiples of $100 will be accepted.
